Captain's Brief

Saturday, November 7 at Park Padel South San Francisco, Courts 1 to 6

Thanks for captaining. Please read this through before Saturday so you can brief your squad in the morning.

Before first ball

Players arrive at 8:30. Before we start we'll take squad photos, hand out shirts and breakfast, and hold a quick captains' meeting. After that, you brief your own squad.

First ball is at 9:00 and we can't push it back. If someone on your squad is running late, please chase them yourself.

How the day works

There are four squads of twelve. Each squad is split into three lines of four, and the lines stay the same all day: Line 1 only plays Line 1, Line 2 only plays Line 2, and Line 3 only plays Line 3.

We play five rounds. In each round your squad plays one other squad on all three lines at once.

ROUND	MATCHUPS
Round 1	Fries v 69ers · Samosas v Naans
Round 2	Fries v Samosas · 69ers v Naans
Round 3	Fries v Naans · 69ers v Samosas
Round 4, seeding	1st v 4th and 2nd v 3rd, based on the standings after Round 3
Round 5, finals	1st v 2nd for the Cup, 3rd v 4th for third place, based on the standings after Round 4

Each round is played in two waves on the six courts. Every line sends one pair out in the first wave and its other pair in the second, so all four players play in every round.

> Every player plays exactly five sets, one per round. If anyone on your squad ends up playing four or six, the squad is disqualified. This can't be fixed at the end of the day, so please check it every round.

Your lineups for all five rounds are already set. On the day, you can change up to two of your lines.

Lunch is served from 12 to 2. Play doesn't stop for it, so players eat between their matches.

Reporting scores

When a set finishes, the winners take the score straight to the score desk. A score only counts once the desk has it, and the next round can't start until every score from the current round is in.

Scoring

	ROUNDS 1 TO 4	ROUND 5
A set is	First to 5 games	First to 6 games, on all three lines
At deuce	Golden point. The next point wins the game, and nobody chooses who returns it.	Golden point
If it's level	At 5–5, play a serve shootout. Toss for first serve, then each side serves once in turn. If it's 2–2 after four serves, the fifth decides it. Record the set as 6–5.	At 6–6, play a 7-point tiebreak

Standings

Squads are ranked on total games won across all three lines and all rounds, not on sets won. A game on Line 3 counts the same as a game on Line 1. The finals are decided on total games too.

If two squads are level on games, we use game difference, then games won in the sets those two squads played against each other.

If a final ends level, all three courts play one golden point at the same time, and the squad that wins two of the three takes it.

Rounds 4 and 5

Matchups for Rounds 1 to 3 are posted on every court. Rounds 4 and 5 depend on the standings, so before each of those rounds, come to the score desk to pick up your matchup and hand in your lineup. Lineups stay at the desk and aren't shown on the scoreboard until all four captains have handed theirs in.

Your job as captain

- Pick a vice-captain before Saturday who can gather players, pick up a matchup or report a score while you're on court.
- Get all twelve players there by 8:30.
- Have your next four players waiting at the court before it frees up. Empty courts are what make the day run late.
- Know who plays in each wave without having to check.
- Make sure the winners report every set your squad wins.
- If there's a disagreement, replay the point. If it still isn't settled, find Akash or Rich at the front desk.
